Eagle Scout Projects Lead to Improvements in the City of Worthington

(Worthington, Ohio) – Several projects by area Eagle Scouts are leading to improvements to City of Worthington parks and facilities. The Eagle Scouts are partnering with Worthington Parks Maintenance crews, along with area businesses to give back to the community and create improvements throughout the City. The following projects are either in progress or recently completed:

Park Boulevard honeysuckle removal and replanting of new perennials (Rush Run north of bridge)

- Boy Scout Tom Edger, in partnership with Brad Harvey of Millcreek Gardens which donated perennials valued at $2,400.

Olentangy Parklands removal and replanting of trees (south of Wilson Bridge Road)

- Boy Scout Chris Burkett, in partnership with Jerry Fultz of Acorn Farms which donated 30 trees to the project.

Perry/McCord Park Kickboards (repair and removal)

- Boy Scout Cory Thomas, in partnership with Community Gardens organizer Marc Zody

Selby Dumpster Fence

- Boy Scout Jason Gaston, in partnership with the Worthington Engineering Department

Buckeye Planting at Godown Park (1,500 buckeye trees from seed – south of nursery)

- Boy Scout Terrance Wallace

Perry Fence Installation (south of park entrance after bridge)

- Boy Scout Harrison Chang

The City of Worthington would like to thank these dedicated young men for their commitment to community service and further thank the partnering businesses for their contributions.
